

L.A. Day 2020

Published on December 1st, 2020

Presented by Karabo Bruce Elekwang

I am Karabo Bruce Elekwang and welcome to LA Day 2020.

Today gets to be the Platinum Wave's official day of announcements that always have previews to go with. I basically have to make enough announcements and essays to get all of you in the loop with what is happening. Everything about L.A. Day focuses on one thing – the stories created for the Platinum Wave.

Bradley, Brian and I have been writing our stories for a long time and this gets to be a day where I give specific details on what to expect from the Platinum Wave. I cannot reveal a lot about what I am announcing but previews should arrive shortly after some time.

I can confirm all of the details and they could change depending on our schedule and other circumstances such our creative process and even our timing. My stories have to keep being about our legacies. I have written a lot of awesome books that I get to finally start to publish on the Wave during the holidays because all of us have to just rest and read the Wave's books and stream the Wave's music too. The Wave arrived and I want it always to be L.A. in all ways.

The E.A.R. Full Experience

The E.A.R. Full Experience premieres on December 29th, 2020 and it is the first official flagship show on the Platinum Wave. It is a podcast hosted by Keitumetse Frans Rakobane and me. The podcast gets to explore a lot of conversations I generally have with my inner circle and gets to be personal at times. The other flagship shows get to premiere in 2021 and collaborations with the podcast should be expected. The E.A.R. Full Experience always focuses on the Platinum Wave's cause.

Wizardry From the Dark Side of the Moon

Wizardry from the Dark Side of the Moon gets to be one of my two first books to be published on the Platinum Wave. It arrives on December 25th, 2020 and explores the life of Xavier Green who needs to save the universe with his team. In the story, wizards get to be referred to as supernatural mercenaries because of their powerful nature and it is the first book I finished reading.

Forever

My album gets to be the first of six in my complete discography. The album gets to explore my thoughts on family, existentialism and spirituality. My album gets to have 25 songs that create a story about my best understanding on how to appreciate the time I have. The album premieres on December 25th, 2020 on the Platinum Wave and the physical copies arrive in 2021.

The Mighty Ten

The Mighty Ten is a geopolitical sci-fi adventure that pits a young and reluctant Bruce Medabeaker against Red Nest's leader Barron Patriot in a war that helps introduce their world to the most powerful team. Originally handwritten then digitalized, the Mighty Ten is set to arrive on December 25th, 2020. The story gets to explore the Phenoms' Universe and introduce prominent characters including Ryan Gardner and Lily Mason. The Mighty Ten gets to be the first of three books that focuses on Medabeaker's roster. The Mighty Ten always focuses on my thoughts on brotherhood.

L.A.

L.A. gets to be a Legacy story that means I am writing a set of cohesive stories that all get to tell our story of the family that needed to have it all. L.A. focuses on a young writer who struggles with his enduring writer's block and needs to reluctantly welcome changes into his life that could change all of that. Set to be the first movie on the Platinum Wave, L.A. gets to arrive in 2025 with its first series run starting later that exact year. L.A. always focuses on my legacy.

The End